EXPERTISE

Kassie dove into insurance and group benefits at the age of 18 and it's been her passion since. Kassie spends her time servicing several industries, including law firms, food and beverage manufacturing, nonprofits, and general manufacturing. Kassie's approach to client service is that of a direct partnership. She takes the initiative to get curious and understand her clients on a deeper level, working alongside them to craft talent-winning total reward strategies. Kassie brings over 10 years of group benefits expertise along with an energy for continuous improvement.
